NYSO DKG Native American Grant(s)-in-Aid Application

The Native American Grant(s)-in-Aid is awarded to a Native American woman, attending a two- or four-year college who is planning to work in the field of education or other service-related field. She must have at least one Native American parent and be listed on a tribal role.

Originally started as a temporary project in 1967 to assist Native American girls who were hoping to enter the teaching profession, it has been a Pi State Committee since 1975. Each grant is $500 per semester, renewable under certain conditions, for a maximum of $4,000 over a period of four years.

This program currently supports up to four students by awarding them $500 each semester (for up to eight semesters) to defray the cost of their education. The number of grants given each semester will be determined by the amount of available funds.

The renewal of any grant in succeeding semesters will be determined by the amount of available funds and:

- a. Satisfactory progress indicated by grades and credit hours
- b. A copy of grades of the semester just completed.
- c. Personal letter stating accomplishments of the past semester and verifying plans to continue in required field (education or other service related).
- d. Verification of enrollment in college for a new semester after the start of classes. A form for this is available from the Committee.

Applications must include proof of Tribal affiliation, official copy of your grades for the past year or semester, two letters of recommendation, current photograph and one-page personal letter about yourself and your plans for the future. Applications need to be postmarked and mailed to the Chair Native American Grant(s)-in-Aid Committee by February 15th.

All applicants will be notified whether they receive the grant or not as soon as selections have been made. Verification of enrollment must be received before the check for the award will be issued.

Please note: Incomplete applications will not receive consideration.
